

Another key driver of poverty among fisherfolk is the rising proportion of cost to actual yield. According to Greenpeace, the cost of fishing in terms of gasoline and time increased over the years while the resulting yield relative to the cost is at its lowest since the 1950s.⁸ At present, it is estimated that fuel accounts for almost 60% of each fisherfolk's production cost.⁹ This is likely to increase, as the depletion of fishing grounds will force fisherfolk to venture further into the sea.

Thus, the present measure proposed to provide a fuel subsidy for municipal fisherfolk who utilize motorized boats. It proposes to provide a fuel voucher worth at least One Thousand Pesos (Php 1,000.00) per month for each eligible beneficiary. In addition, beneficiaries of this program shall also be automatically enrolled and covered under the National Health Insurance program of the Philippine Health Insurance Corporation (PhilHealth). The Social Security System (SSS) shall also provide micro-insurance mechanisms to beneficiaries of the program.

In view of the foregoing, approval of this measure is immediately sought.
